Dear I Really Do Need Managed Services:

Whether you're plagued with persistent network problems such as security vulnerabilities, poor performance, and a barrage of support requests—or—just need a little network fine tuning, we can help. Set your sights on a safer network that minimizes security threats and tedious management tasks, and maximizes time spent on priorities.

We have extensive experience in helping customers like you cut IT costs by over 30 percent while increasing capability and performance.

New IT support with real benefits.

Optimize your network in the following areas:
- Simplify IT administration and management.
- Manage your entire infrastructure from a single location.
- Automate deployment, backup, and upgrades.
- Lower the cost and complexity of managing your servers and desktops.
- Proactively manage changing business conditions.

With a network that is optimized and secure, you can pursue more strategic initiatives that really take your business forward.

The proof is in the numbers.

On average, customers like you are able to lower the cost of managing their servers and desktops by an average of 30 percent, simply by deploying our managed services program.

Using our IT Strategic Compass to complete a network assessment, we'd like to sit down with you and determine just how much you can save.
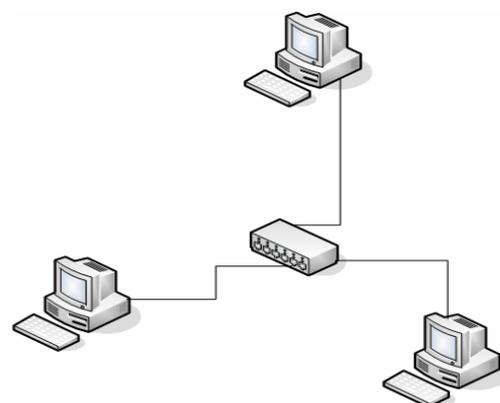

Rock-solid, safe, and dependable.

In today's environment, you want a network that is as secure and reliable as possible. We can provide services that will analyze and detect areas of vulnerability, and provide you with recommendations for reducing those vulnerabilities.

To learn how to optimize and just how much you can save, call TechNET Express! Group (TSL) Today!

Sincerely,
The MS Team at TechNET Express! Group
